COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

SATURDAY EVENING, MAY 20.

THE only movements reported by Reuter in the London stock markets yesterday were a decline of ⅛ in Consols, which now stand at 102⅛, and an advance of 3-16 in Indian Rupee Paper, the latter being a reflection, doubtless, of the improvement which has latterly been gaining ground on this side.

In general produce the telegrams, as a rule, continue to advise great dulness, the demand for almost every important article of shipment from this port being slow and dragging, even at prices considerably under first cost on this side. Linseed, perhaps, meets a somewhat better inquiry for distant shipment, but not at values which admit of simultaneous business being done at a profit; whilst Wheat is still called very quiet, and quotations for Bombay sorts exhibit a loss of from 3 to 7 per cent. on current figures here.

Piece-goods in Manchester yesterday were called quiet but steady at previous prices; but Cotton in Liverpool was dull, with a decline of 1-16d. in Americans on the spot and 1-32d. to arrive. To-day's market comes a trifle steadier in tone, private advices say, both for Americans and Surats; but the New York report looks like renewed dulness in Liverpool on Monday, August shipment of Mid-Uplands, which had advanced yesterday from 12·32 to 12·39, having to-day gone back to 12·27 cents. per lb., or to practically the same prices as ready Cotton. This is a position the New York market has seldom presented before this season, futures 3 months ahead having generally ruled from ¼ to ½ cent. over spot stuff; and the inference is, therefore, that new crop prospects are favourable, although it is not always safe to judge of the situation by the surface movements in New York, that market being so much at the mercy of "bulls" and "bears."

We subjoin our usual weekly comparison of the statistical position of the staple. The changes which have taken place in the figures during the week have been a decrease of 80,000 in the total visible supply—which now stands at 155,000 bales less than the corresponding period last year—and an increase of 5,000 bales in the Liverpool stock. The latter has now probably reached the highest point of the year, and may be expected to go down week by week. At the present rate of consumption, however, a ready supply of a million bales renders anything like a scarcity of the raw material quite out of the question, and especially is this the case with Surats, which have never been so largely held in Liverpool since that port ceased to be the depôt through which the wants of the Continent were also provided, instead of as now direct from Bombay. So long, therefore, as the growing American Crop promises fairly, present values for Cotton must be considered comparatively high.

The total visible supply of Cotton for all Europe on the 19th instant, compares with the corresponding date on the two previous years as follows:—

	1881-82.	1880-81.	1880.
Total supply of all kinds.....	2,770,000	2,925,500	2,429,740
Do. do. Surats.....	892,000	514,300	5,0,200

For the U. K. only the figures are:—

Stock in Liverpool.....	991,000	983,270	737,210
Do. London.....	55,000	48,910	47,250
American afloat.....	170,000	118,000	210,000
East Indian afloat.....	250,000	106,000	171,000
	1,466,000	1,256,180	1,174,460
	d.	d.	d.
Prices of Mid.-Uplands.....	6 9-16	5¾	6 13-16
Do. Fair Dholleras.....	4¼	4 1-16	5¼
	d.	d.	d.
Difference.....	2 5-16	1 13-16	1 11-16

The receipts at the American ports to date give the following comparisons:—

	1882.	1881.	1880.
For the week.....	20,000	42,200	25,600
Total for the season to date	4,464,0.0	5,459,200	4,726,000
Saturday's receipts	2,000	7,000	2,800

Our local Cotton Market to-day has been very steady with no appreciable change in prices, and a fair amount of buying has been done. In very few cases, though, do the transactions represent new business from the other side, as prices generally show a margin the wrong way; but it almost seems as if enough had already been sold for future shipment to prevent rates giving way to any material extent. This is the more remarkable, as not only have we fair supplies on the spot, but the arrivals are heavy, the receipts for the past two days being over 34,000 bales, and there seems every appearance of a comparatively heavy scale of receipts being kept up until the setting in of the rains. It may be, as we have frequently asserted, that the districts are being quite swept of Cotton, and that there will be next to nothing available after the monsoon, but in the meantime the broad fact patent to operators both here and at home is that our figures keep on a level beyond all previous experience, and so long as this is the case, there will be few believers in the exhaustion of the crop. Quoted rates to-day are:—

Broach	Good,	.. Rs. 225	per candy f. p.
Oomra	Fine,	.. „ 205	„ „
Do.	Fully Good	.. „ 198	„ „
Do.	Good	.. „ 193 to 195	„ „
Do.	F. G. F.	.. „ 186 .. 188	„ „
Do.	G. F.	.. „ 180 .. 182	„ „
Dhollera	Fine	.. „ 204 .. 207	„ „
Do.	Fully Good	.. „ 193 .. 197	„ „
Do.	Good	.. „ 190 .. 193	„ „
Do.	F. G. F.	.. „ 183 .. 186	„ „
Do.	G. F.	.. „ 176 .. 178	„ „
Ginned Dharwar Good		.. „ 201 .. 203	„ „

WHEAT is very firmly held by dealers. Supplies are limited, natives up-country having apparently made up their minds to see something of the coming monsoon before they part with their stocks, and with considerable quantities still to deliver against previous contracts, prices look like ruling high as compared with home currencies.

To-day's prices are:—No. 1 Soft White, Rs. 33 to Rs 34; No. 2 White, Rs. 32 to Rs. 32-8; Soft Red, Rs. 30 to Rs. 31-8.

SEEDS of all kinds are being freely bought at considerably over their value on the other side, to cover freight engagements. Linseed, although in liberal supply, is being rapidly bought up at Rs. 5-8 to Rs. 5-9. Rapeseed is firm at Rs. 6 to Rs. 6-1 per cwt. for Guzerat.

IMPORTS all round are quiet. Metals receive a fair share of attention, but Piece-goods only move very slowly, and nothing but an actual starvation of supplies for some months will impart a sound tone to the trade. Of this a number of people pretend to see some probability, but we much fear they are likely to be disappointed. In the matter of Cotton Goods the producing power of the world appears to have got ahead of the consumption, and it is difficult at the moment, to see from what quarter relief can spring.

FREIGHTS.—By Canal great depression still exists, although it is something to say that it has not got actually worse. For Liverpool we quote 30s.; London, Hull, and Marseilles 32s. 6d.; Havre, Antwerp and North Continental ports 35s. Native speculators are now pretty well clear of their tonnage; but on the other hand, leading shippers seem all well engaged, in fact, owing to the small arrivals of wheat, have mostly as much as they can do to fill their chartered boats without entering on further business. Sailing ship freights are quieter at 45s. to 46s. 3d. for wood and 48s. 9d. for iron ships for Liverpool, 50s. for Havre and Bremen. The tonnage now in sight seems likely to be quite equal to our requirements.

EXCHANGE has not undergone much alteration to-day. Bar Silver coming 1-16 per ounce higher from London has tended to give a slightly steadier, tone to the market, and the banks have been drawers for ready delivery at, in some instances 1-32d. over yesterday's rates, but their buying rates are unchanged, and an indisposition to draw at full prices forward indicates a general want of belief in any firmness being permanent. The Government will doubtless do all they can by a careful manipulation of their Council drawings to support rates, and may possibly, as some people anticipate, make a decided stand at 1s. 8d., but in other respects the position is weak, and we should say in favour of a decline. We quote:—

Bank Bills Telegraphic ready.....	1-8 1-16 per rupee.
Do. July-August.....	1-8	„
Do. On demand ready.....	1-8⅛	„
Do. do. July-August	1-8 1-32	„
Do. 3 months' sight ready....	1-8 9-32	„
Credits 3 „ „ „	1-8⅜	„
Do. 6 „ „ „	1-8 17-32	„
Documents 3 „ „ „	1-8 13-32	„
Do. 6 „ „ „	1-8 19-32	„
Francs 3 „ „ „	2 14¾	„
On Calcutta demand	100	„

GOVERNMENT PAPER is decidedly firm with many more buyers than sellers. For Fours we quote Rs. 101¼ to 15-16 ready, with buyers for a few days' delivery at Rs. 102. Fours-and-a-half are at Rs. 108¾, but there are no sellers of large amounts at that; in fact, even Rs. 109 would not bring out heavy lines, the whole feeling of the market just now being in favour of a rise.

SHARES continue to maintain their tendency towards improvement. Bank of Bombays are firm at a rise of Rs. 5, the quotation being now Rs. 790. Colaba Land Co.'s shares are in request, and have risen to Rs. 820. Spinning mill shares are steadily hardening, and even allowing for all we hear of the position of the industry, there can be no doubt that a number of the companies stand at comparatively low prices. Parell, Dhurrumsey, Empress, and Khutao Muckonjee are all Rs. 5 higher. Orientals have advanced Rs. 10 and National Rs. 15. Press Companies are firm, and in some cases higher. Bombay-Burmah Trading Co. are Rs. 20 up.

The Bombay Gazette

MONDAY, MAY 22, 1882.

IT is difficult to withstand the importunities of a youngster who appeals to our sympathies as "nobody's child." The latest luckless waif who presents itself in the forlorn attitude of filius nullius is the Province of Sind. According to the Kurrachee Civil and Military Gazette, Sir Charles Aitchison has gone up to Simla with a petition for the affiliation of Sind to the Punjab. The Kurrachee paper is indignant at the manner in which Bombay has neglected her foster-child; and even goes so far as to assert that "the people of Bombay, and especially those that represent the mercantile interests of that community, may be said to put all the obstacles they possibly can in the way of the welfare of this Province. Obviously, too, they are jealous of the rising importance of Kurrachee as the sea-port to be, for all the Northern and North-Western parts of our Indian Empire, and are evidently afraid that the trade of this port may ultimately increase in such a ratio as to prove decidedly detrimental to the best interests of Bombay—their peculiarly pettish urbs primis in Indis, as they ostentatiously term their insalubrious and insanitary city." We are too well pleased at the public spirit exhibited by our contemporary, a feeling peculiarly refreshing in these days when the tendency sometimes is to selfish indifference, to take serious exception to the raking up of old-fashioned libels which have been embalmed since the days of Ovington. Neither are we disposed to trifle with the indisputable claims of the Western Capital, albeit "insalubrious and insanitary," by attempting to draw a comparison between it and the struggling city which with gallant determination endeavours to hold its head up against the engulfing deserts of Sind. Our contemporary, with probable humour, though in truth he assumes a deceptive air of seriousness, twits us with feelings of jealousy towards the Indus port. We are afraid, it seems, "of the rising importance of Kurrachee," and for this reason we have "not exhibited much affection for, and decidedly do not act the part of parent to, the Province, or foster it and its interests in any way. Rather the reverse." This last, indeed, is very likely, that is if we assume the hypothesis set up by the Kurrachee paper that anxiety for our commercial pre-eminence is at the bottom of our unparental neglect. But, as we have already remarked, our contemporary had dropped unconsciously into a jocose vein. It would not be possible to otherwise explain why a city, situated where a port was bound to be, and where by the site it must be a great port, should go out of its way to boycott an unfortunate neighbour who contends against the overwhelming difficulties of a confined harbour, an absence of water, and an inconvenient superabundance of sand both in the sea and out of it. If we have not seemed to respond to the enthusiastic dreams of Kurrachee—though we by no means admit that we have anything to do with the matter one way or the other—it has been for the double reason that the ambitions stirred up by Sir Charles Napier appeared to sober minds unrealisable; and secondly, that never having been able to obtain a moderate share of justice for ourselves, we could not be expected to procure extravagant bounties for others. It is true that when one comes to detail, a good deal of romance is taken out of the demands of Kurrachee, and her grievances shrink into some trivial matters of local administration. Passing over the usual vapour about the potentialities of Kurrachee trade, which we are accused, on not the slightest foundation, of obstructing, we learn that Kurrachee "would decidedly not have to wait till seven o'clock in the evening for the delivery of the up-country mails, which arrive at the city station by the ordinary mail-train at 11 a.m. . . . under the progressive Punjab Government." This formidable evil—"disadvantageous delay," as it is modestly described—we are gravely told "has happened more than once," and throughout the two columns odd taken up by our contemporary's complaint we are unable to find any more substantial charge brought against us.

It is certainly not our intention to thwart any general desire on the part of the Sindis to have their province annexed to the Punjab. We don't believe there is anything in their charges against Bombay; but if they suppose that the Lahore Government can bring ten feet more water into the harbour of Kurrachee, can moderate the temperature of Sind, or make her deserts "rejoice and blossom as the rose," we should be sorry to stand between them and beatitude. Our feelings in the matter are affected by two important considerations, and neither of them bear in any way on the grievances of Kurrachee against Bombay. The first is, whether under any conceivable circumstances it is advisable to extend the jurisdiction of any Government so traditionally permeated with an evil policy as that of the Punjab. The standing complaint against the Punjab officials is that they are generally actuated by a desire to carry things before them with a high hand. Sir Bartle Frere, who had the interest of Sind as much at heart as Sir Charles Napier himself, strenuously opposed the annexation to the Punjab, because of the different spirit with which the administration of Sind was animated in its dealings with frontier tribes. It could not be denied that the mild policy of Sind was much more successful than the severe methods adopted at Lahore; and though it may be argued, as Sir John Lawrence did argue, that severity was necessary with the more turbulent tribes on the Punjab frontier, AETER Friday next the mail steamers will leave Bombay for England on Tuesday, and will continue to do so until the close of the monsoon. The Bokhara, which leaves on the 30th inst., will be the first steamer to leave on Tuesday.

MR. MONTEATH has sent in his papers to retire from the service, and it is believed that Mr. Hogg will probably be confirmed as Postmaster-General.

As the negotiations with the Burmese Ambassador have to be referred point by point to England, the Englishman says it is likely they will be of a protracted nature. But little more than preliminary questions have so far been discussed.

IT is stated that Sir R. Phayre, recently promoted to the rank of Lieutenant-General, will retain his command in Bombay until the completion of his five years' term.

MAJORS CAMPBELL AND DESBARRES, R. A., who became supernumerary to establishment on the recent reduction of the Artillery in India, will not, it is said, return to England, but will be kept in India until absorbed.

THE Englishman regrets to learn that if no step has as yet been definitely taken it is at all events seriously contemplated to withdraw Mr. Pigot from the original to the appellate side of the Calcutta High Court without at once appointing any substitute to replace him.

THE 1st April, 1883, will see four Bengal Cavalry regiments vacant, their commandants under the new tenure of command rules having to retire to either furlough or unemployed pay unless their services are further utilised. These regiments are the 11th, 12th, 13th, and 15th.

THE death is announced of Major Alfred Dixon, Royal Horse Artillery, who was shot in Peshawar by a sentry of the 35th Native Infantry some months ago. The wound was known to be a dangerous one from the first, and for some time past the surgeons had despaired of saving the unfortunate officer's life.

COLONEL ROSS, H.M.'s Resident, Captain MacIvor his Assistant, and the Residency Surgeon, Doctor Ross, returned to Bushire in H. M. S. Dryad, Captain Hoare, R. N., on the 28th April. The Dryad left Bushire again on the 3rd instant for a cruise, which will extend to Muscat and Rasul Hudd.

A RANGOON correspondent telegraphs to us:—Rutnavaloo Moodliar, clerk of the Ordnance Department, Rangoon, in charge of family remittances to Madras, has just been prosecuted for criminal breach of trust in respect of a sum of eighteen rupees. The trial lasted two days in the Recorder's Court, and the jury finding accused not guilty, he was acquitted.

MR. J. P. DE WET, late Chief Justice of the Transvaal, is at present in Calcutta, an up-country paper states. He will proceed shortly to Colombo, to officiate as Chief Justice for the present incumbent of that appointment, who is going away from Ceylon on sick leave. Mr. de Wet was the last British Chief Justice of the Transvaal, and came up to India from the Cape a few days ago in the steamship Tower Hill.

THE Marine Branch of the Military Department has given notice to mariners that information has been received from the Port Officer, Madras, that repairs to Tellicherry light will commence on the 20th instant, and that they will be completed in about one month. During this time the light will probably only be visible when close in with the anchorage.

THE Secretary to the Government of India in the Foreign Department, through the Agent to the Governor-General for Rajputana, has conveyed the thanks of the Government to Maharaja Pertab Singh, C.S.I., and Rao Raja Tez Singh, of Jodpur, for the assistance rendered by them to Colonel Powlett in the Lohiana Marwar territory, in quelling the disturbance amongst the riotous Bhils and Rajputs, who had been troublesome for some time past.

THE Bombay Guardian :— The Bishop of Calcutta has conceded to ministers of non-Anglican communions permission to officiate in consecrated portions of the Circular-road cemetery. Will the Bishop of Bombay follow this good example with regard to the cemetery at Sewri? It occasionally occurs that parties belonging to Nonconformist churches, whose relatives are buried in vaults in the consecrated portion, wish still to bury their dead there, but are not allowed to do so unless a minister of the English Church officiates.

THE chief Punjab paper states that much fever of a severe type is prevalent in Lahore, and that there have been several fatal cases. "The fever in some instances is typhoid, while in others it appears to be merely allied with that disease. Without doubt our drains are to blame, and we would once more urge on the Municipality the necessity of pushing on the measures of sanitary reform now in hand."

THE command of the 1st Battalion Northumberland Fusiliers has been given to Lieutenant-Colonel Macdonald, who recently joined the 2nd Battalion at Agra from half pay. The vacant Lieutenant-Colonelcy is filled by Major and Brevet Lieutenant Colonel Pocklington with over 28 years' service, Captain Broad obtaining his majority with 18½ years. Both these officers, it is expected, will be posted to the 2nd battalion in this country; the former is at present away on six months' leave in Kashmir.

NOTICING Sir Andrew Clarke's appointment to the coveted post of Inspector-General of Fortifications and Works, the Pioneer says considering the unfair and ungenerous treatment he received in India at the hands of Lord Lytton and Sir John Strachey, it will be especially satisfactory for his many friends out here, who believed in his abilities in spite of the circumstances which denied them free scope, to find that he has now been selected for a still more important trust in a larger field of action.

THE Allahabad paper says that the principal object which Sir Salar Jung has in view in visiting Simla is to make the Viceroy's personal acquaintance,as he attributes many of the difficulties which have arisen between the Government of India and himself, in past times, to being personally unknown at head-quarters. He wishes, moreover, to discuss a project which is in contemplation for a visit to England to be paid next year by the Nizam. This is an admirable scheme on which the Nizam's wishes are said to be very intently set.

MAJOR BARING is expected to return to work to-day, having completely recovered. Mr. T. C. Hope will resume for a short while the duties of Financial Secretary, Mr. Barbour being placed on special work connected with the Financial Department. Mr. Hope, however, reverts to the Bombay Council on the 1st August, and, before joining, will probably take leave for a month. The post of the Financial Secretary will thus shortly be vacant. There are many candidates for the appointment, but, the Englishman says, Mr. Barbour appears to have as good a chance as any.

IN the opinion of the Lahore paper there is at present such a chance as seldom occurs for making money by the export of Indian wheat. "In Upper India the crops are magnificent, while the American wheat supply is a long way below the average. If the wheat exported be only chosen with care, and judiciously placed on the market at home, it should not only return a handsome profit, but should also lay the foundation of a lucrative trade in the future. The railway regulations concerning through-shipment are at present unsatisfactory; but it is possible that these may be modified, if not completely changed, and the export of this valuable commodity rendered easier. Several big-headed men of business have been making inquiries, testing samples, &c., and we should not be surprised to hear of transactions on a large scale shortly."

A "WELL-INFORMED correspondent" writes to the Allahabad paper:—"There may be still latent discontent with the Amir's rule in Kabul and Afghan-Turkistan, but the fact remains that he has greatly strengthened his position since his capture of Kandahar. He is not likely to let either Ishak Khan or Kudus Khan assert their independence for any length of time, but he will not attempt to reach Herat by way of Kandahar, as he would leave Kabul exposed to an invasion from the north, and Ishak Khan might find allies in Kohistan willing to join in an attack upon the city. Abdur Rahman will probably wait until he has received sufficient money from the Indian Government to enable him to tamper with Ishak Khan's army, and then he can march into Turkistan with confidence. Once he gains possession of Tashkurgan, Balkh, and Shibarghan, he should have no difficulty in coercing the Khan of Maimena and paying Herat a flying visit." The Pioneer adds:—From other sources we learn that the Amir is anxiously awaiting the arrival of our Envoy at Kabul; doubtless because Sirdar Afzul Khan may carry with him a handsome present in hard cash, and thus enable Abdur Rahman to begin his intrigues against his cousin Ishak.

THIS is the impression made on the pious mind of the Bombay Gwardian by our recent article on the probable condition of things fifty years hence:—We do not think there is any necessary connection between national power and population. Macedonia was not a considerable country either in area or population, but when Alexander the son of Philip came to the throne it made its power felt throughout the world. Still the fact mentioned with regard to population in France is a very ominous one, and may exert a crippling influence upon the State. Our contemporary pleases himself with the picture of England the mistress of 500,000,000 in 1932. It is quite possible that long before that the stone spoken of by Daniel ii. 45 may strike the great image which represents the kingdoms of the earth. The politicians of the present day manifest no disposition to give heed to the warning pronounced in the 2nd Psalm, uttered nearly 3000 years ago, yet destined to be fulfilled, perhaps before very long: "Be wise now therefore, O ye kings; be instructed, ye judges of the earth. Serve the Lord with fear and rejoice with trembling. Kiss the Son lest he be angry, and ye perish from the way when his wrath is kindled but a little."

REGARDING the notification which we republished on Saturday from the Madras Government Gazette, in connection with the celebration of the Queen's birthday, the Madras Mail writes:—"Considering that the number of 'officers of Her Majesty's Civil, Naval, and Military Services,' who will be able to accept this invitation is necessarily limited to those who are lucky enough to be on duty or furlough on the Neilgherries, we think that the farce of issuing such an invitation publicly might have been spared. Why should H. E. the Governor go out of his way to arouse feelings of envy, hatred, and malice in the bosoms of unfortunate dwellers in the plains? Here is a most liberal invitation to every man who has the honour to hold Her Majesty's Commission; every such official is asked to join with His Excellency in loyally celebrating Her Majesty's 63rd birthday; there will no doubt be plenty of vigorous dancing, a good supper, and oceans of champagne for those who partake of the Governor's hospitality. But there is one awkward oversight in the invitation. How are 'all' officers of Her Majesty's Civil, Naval, and Military Services to transport themselves bodily to Ootacamund! Will the Government, which has so considerately asked them to join in celebrating Her Majesty's birthday, pay their travelling expenses to and from Ootacamund? Or if they cannot allow travelling expenses, will the Government grant officers a week or ten days' holiday from the plains, so as to enable them to have a short run to the hills for this festive occasion. If not, is it not tantalising to give officers an invitation which they cannot accept? In truth, the attempt to celebrate Her Majesty's birthday on the hills, in the same way that it used to be celebrated at the Presidency town and seat of Government, must, in the nature of things, be a rather ludicrous failure. Where are the troops at Ooty to be reviewed by the Commander-in-Chief, and to fire a feu de joi to usher in the joyous day? Echo answers, about a dozen sepoys who form the body-guard of the Commander-in-Chief. It is true there are some invalid soldiers at Wellington, but these would hardly be called out for active service even on a royal birthday. Then where, and oh where, is the navy of Madras? Must we regard the ancient mariners of the Master Attendant's Department as the particular individuals to whom the Governor's invitation is addressed? Notwithstanding the publicity given to His Excellency the Governor's invitation, the fact remains that it can only be accepted by the few Civil and Military Officers, and their families, who are either on duty or pleasure at Ootacamund. The birthday ball is another of the sacrifices which Madras has had to make to Ooty."

ACCORDING to a return recently issued, seven thousand and twenty persons were evicted in Ireland during the three months just concluded. Of those who were thus turned out, about three thousand were reinstated as caretakers, leaving over four thousand people homeless and unprovided for.

A CONGRESS of schoolboys is one of the newest phases of agitation. Twenty delegates assembled at Albi near Toulouse, and in two days finished their deliberations, and sent up their suggestions to the Minister of Public Instruction. The Congress proposes the substitution of two modern languages for Latin and Greek hitherto included in the Lycée curriculum, the appointment of a Committee to mediate between masters and scholars, improvement of food, suppression of the monopoly enjoyed by the concierges of supplying small luxuries at exorbitant prices, and the amnesty of scholars recently expelled from Toulouse and Montpellier. What attention the Minister of Public Instruction will pay to the schoolboys' manifesto remains to be seen.

THE London Political Correspondtdent of the Pioneer writes on the subject of Mr. W. H. Smith's proposals for the establishment of peasant proprietorships in Ireland:—Nobody knows much of the scheme, but it is evident from an outline which has been published of the Lords Committee on the Land Act, that that important body intends to aid Mr. Smith's case. The purchase clauses of the Land Act very reasonably require that the tenant shall provide at least a portion of the purchase money. It is supposed that Mr. Smith's scheme proposes to throw the whole burden of purchase on the State; this at any rate, the Times informs us, is the suggestion of the Lords Committee. In the face of proposals like these,—to make the State find funds for the purchase of the property of their own order in Ireland,—how can the Conservatives fairly charge the Government with "bargaining with disorder?" Notwithstanding the support which Mr. Smith is apparently to receive from the Lords Committee, there is something very like rebellion in the Tory camp against the principle of seeking to establish peasant proprietorship. Many of those statesmen who are not personally interested in Irish land have no desire to see the adoption of a system which will sap the very foundations of their influence, and interfere with their own estates,if ever the same law be applied to England. Twenty of the rank and file in the House of Commons have already protested against the proposal which Mr. Smith has in view, and unless the details of the plan convert these gentlemen, we may find an open split in the Conservative ranks."

SIR HENRY BESSEMER, writing to the Times says that the total quantity of coal extracted from the mines in England during last year was 154,184,300 tons; but these figures do not "leave on the mind a very vivid picture of the reality, it does not say much for the twelve months' incessant toil of 495,000 men who are employed in this vast industry." So Sir Henry Bessemer proceeds to make it familiar by illustration. The area enclosed by the houses in Lincoln's Inn Fields is exactly that of the base of the great pyramid of Gheza, the height of which is 499 feet, or 95 feet higher than St. Paul's Cathedral. The coal extracted last year would have built more than fifty-five such pyramids, or more than one every week. Again, if the same coal were formed into cylindrical columns 50 feet in diameter and 500 feet in height, and if these were placed in a row their own diameter apart, they would make a colonnade 85 miles and 750 yards long, the product of each working day being sufficient to make fourteen of such columns, which would have a collective height of 7,000 feet. Again, with this coal extracted last year, a wall 200 miles in length, 100 feet high, and 41 feet 11 inches thick could have been built, a mass exceeding that of the great wall of China by sufficient to add another 346 miles to its length. Referring to these figures, Engineering says:—"These ingenious illustrations bring vividly before the mind the stupendous coal consumption of the country, a consumption ever on the increase. It is true that, according to the most careful estimate, the supply should still be sufficient to last for 800 or 1,000 years, so that there is no immediate cause for anxiety; but it is none the less certain that a fractional reduction in this consumption would represent a substantial gain to the country."

THE APPROACH OF THE MONSOON.

A TELEGRAM from the Meteorological Department at Simla, dated 20th May, states:—No remarks with yesterday's bulletin. The following refers to two days. The barometer fell till yesterday forenoon all over India; yesterday morning the pressure was generally below the average. Since yesterday it has risen again in Northern India, especially in the Punjab, North-West Provinces, and Northern Rajputana, where it is now very high. The fall continues in the Peninsula except on the East Coast. In the south the pressure is below the average. This morning the minimum pressure is in Central India and Berar. The weather is cloudy in the Punjab, with rain on and near the hills. The temperature has fallen below eighty at many stations, but has risen in Oudh and to the east and south-east, with clear skies and fine weather. The Punjab winds are easterly also below Allahabad. In Bombay and the Central Provinces the winds are westerly. Heavy rain is reported from Colombo and Cochin. Mangalore reports state that the monsoon has burst there. Heavy rain has fallen also in Madura, Negapatam, and showers are reported from several stations in the Deccan.

At Khandala it was very hot on Thursday and Friday afternoon, with heavy clouds and distant thunder. On Friday afternoon there was a smart shower at Matheran.

A correspondent writes to us from Igatpuri:—The usual storms, the avant couriers of the monsoon, have begun. On the 16th inst. heavy rain fell at Nasik; on the same day two men were killed by lightning at Sivde, Chundar taluka. There was a storm here on the 18th. Three men were killed by lightning at Jharwad Budrug of this taluka, and six cattle at Telegaon, close to Igatpuri. These storms have begun earlier than usual by several days. As I write at 4 p. m., 19th May, it is thundering in the hills around, with rain falling in the distance.

A Nassick correspondent informs us that smart showers of rain fell there on the evening of the 19th instant, and that on the afternoon of the 20th there was a heavy fall lasting about three hours.

In Bombay the weather continues wonderfully cool for the latter half of May. There are clouds in the air, presaging the monsoon, and the sea is more agitated than is its wont at this season. So cool a May has not been known since 1866.

FROM A BENGAL WIND-BAG TO THE HAND OF A BENGAL CIVILIAN.

My dearest Civilian of Bombay's fair town,
I thank you for writing us Bengalees down;
But allow me to say, as a matter of fact,
That your chicken-hearted impudence shows little tact,
For had you confined your satirical self
To writing of duty, and not of vile pelf (Which we hope to increase in return for our bowing),
You'd have done us some good, and been coming
it strong,
But in hitting us hard on the subject of pay,
You've disgusted us all with your comical lay.
Bombay, it may from your verses I glean from your lines,
Is a place that is cooler than this at all times,
But it's doubtful to me from your words whether ever
You've enjoyed the delights of a Bengal Cold Weather.
Here we dance and we play in the season from 5,
And the exercise keeps the whole "biling" alive,
Whilst in dreary Bombay you go grinding away
From 7 to 7 just the same pay.
Your Government stickles and dabbles and fads,
And treats junior officers worse than the cads
Who, in their mechanical, hard-working way,
Do a great deal of duty for very small pay.
And this sort of thing is a thing we can't stand,
Though we 're not, as you hint, so infernally grand
That we think all our fellows are nothing at all
Unless they've been Cadets in little Bengal.
But we like to get credit for all that we do,
And object to the snubs freely given by you;
Our light 'neath a bushel we don't like to hide,
And we think we 're entitled to put on some "side."
For have we not passed several stiffish exams,
And been bullied and stuffed by professional crams
Till our brains were so full of book-learning and lore
They flowed over and lessened our limited store,
And left us with little "side" to put on?
The wretched Uncov with the dig. of C. S.?
And have we not all been both tender and kind
To our subs in the service (which shows a great mind),
And have we not acted, as all rulers do,
Been hard on the white man and praised the Hindu?
And have we not all, been young Judges so grand,
And administered law with no niggardly hand,
And sent in statistics, reports, and reviews,
And kept Government plied with the latest of news
On the subject of ryots, diseases, and crops,
Of health in the talooks and prices in shops,
And done all the duty a B. C. may
For his beggarly, miserable, pitiful pay?
And now we are ordered to beastly Bombay,
Where only the swells get their wishes and way,
Where vigorous action is sure to be hid,
And the Rev. Ex. wretches just do as they're bid,
Where prices are higher than here in Bengal,
And additional pay means "add nothing at all,"
Where the A. G. is sterner (most awful of men),
And will mulct you for purchasing even a pen
If its length and its breadth and its depth and its height
Are not in accordance with C. A. C.* right,
Who will worry your life with objections and queries
And refer you to Codes, Resolutions, and series,
Where the holidays end on the day they commence
And work is the present, and play the past tense,
Whilst a man, who upon "good authority" said it,
Declares that you work, but you never get credit.
As these are the joys offered Civs in Bombay,
I think we were prudent in staying away.
But now, like a certain great hero of old,
We're to pocket our pride and do as we're told
And regard our great covenant, now grown so stale
As a horrible joke, or Grimm's goblin tale.
And now, my Civilian, beloved and blest,
I'll be off and away to your snug little nest;
And if it is true what your story does tell,
I'll be starting for heaven and leaving a hell,
But list to my story and hear what I say
If I come, you will have—just the day I'll pay.
Yours, resignedly
A BENGAL WIND-BAG.

DEATH OF FATHER DE VOS, S. J.—The members of the Society of Jesus in the Bombay Vicariate have been in mourning this last week for the death of the Very Rev. Father Edward de Vos, S. At the close of his triennium in that post of labour and responsibility, he became Director of the Episcopal Seminary, in which post he was found when he was appointed Spiritual Superior of the Jesuit Fathers in the Vicariate of Bombay, in September last year. The deceased Father seemed always to have had a weak constitution, and from the very first arrival in India doubts were entertained of his being able to withstand the climate. Nevertheless the father worked throughout the six years he was in India as though he had been of a robust constitution.—Bombay Catholic Examiner, May 20.

BACK BAY SWIMMING BATH.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—In your issue of to-day a correspondent who signs himself "Leander" advocates the opening of the bath between the hours of 12 and 2 p. m., undoubtedly, as he observes, the hottest part of the day. May I be allowed to remark that only Somalis could, with any safety, bathe in the blazing sun. "Leander" must certainly have a peculiarly constructed cranium to be able to follow their example.

BAPTISIA TINCTORIA OR INDIAN INDIGO.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—"Dr. Hastings, of Landsdowne House, Ryde, calls attention to the value of Baptisia Tinctoria as a homœopathic remedy in the early stages of typhoid fever. He indicates the nature of the plant from which the medicine is derived, and the experiments made by competent authorities in proving its uses. He also testifies that he has never found it fail in arresting the disease when administered early."

The above information may be useful, unless our medicals prefer disposing of us under the usual quinine treatment.

TINCTURE.

WANT OF WATER AT MAHIM.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—The dearth of water in a season like the present is a sore grievance, especially when the wells are almost all dry and in an impure state. I have noticed for the last five days that the tap at Lower Mahim bazaar was out of order, and consequently hundreds of poor people have been deprived of their daily quota. I have also seen with my own eyes that several labourers who came from a distance to quench their thirst could not get a drop of water out of the tap, and had to resort to a brackish well close by. Now, Sir, I ask you if such a state of things can be countenanced by those whose duty it is to see that the public are not to suffer from their neglect.

PRO BONO PUBLICO.

Mahim Woods, May 20.

THE LATE MR. ARDASIR HORMARJI WADIA.

THE vernacular papers give some further particulars of the life of the late Mr. Wadia, which are not generally known. Says the Rast Goftar:—Mr. Wadia had retired lately from active public life, but he was a public man all the same. It is said that he spent Rs. 4,000 every month regularly in private charity, in the shape of fixed monthly allowances to deserving but poor men. Nobody, not even his book-keeper or accountant, knew who these persons were. Mr. Wadia drew a certain amount from his purse every month and sent the remittances to the recipients under cover with his own hands. He disappro
